

This Week @Foxland
6 November 2011

NO cruises booked ..
Suffering withdrawal ..

THE INAUGURAL SUPPLEMENTAL NEWSLETTER

So last Sunday my No1 Son and his 'Posse' arrived at home, at the request of my No1 Wife, to assist in replacing a canopy on the back deck – that was too awkward for me to handle on my own.

** Posse comprises Annabelle [Big Red], Alex, Sean and Matt

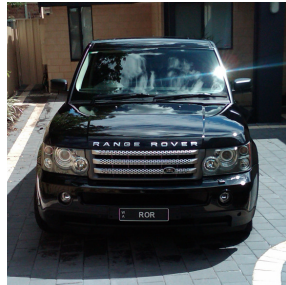

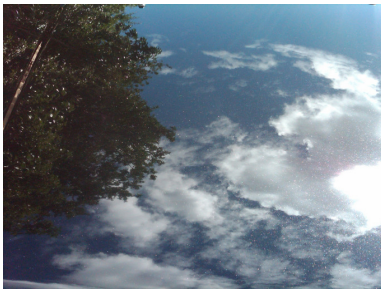

“This should make the newsletter” commented Adam.

Actually it may not simply because the newsletter was written 2 days ago and by the time we get to the next one – well, who knows what news I might have to include.

Which is why he suggested that we should have “supplemental newsletters” so that I didn't miss all the good stuff – like when he and the Posse gives a helping hand?

Ergo welcome to the Inaugural [and possibly the only] Supplemental Newsletter .. an opportunity to thank Adam and the Posse.

MORE ABOUT ADAM

He asked me to come and give him a hand this morning – he had previously polished the Range Rover 'sport' in the pictures but wasn't convinced it was as good as it could have been – I guess by the reflection on the bonnet in the left hand photo that he's feeling much happier now. Good job son!!

SNIPPETS

Bobbi has gone cruising on the Azamara Quest .. Val and Jim are sailing on Voyages of Discovery to the Red Sea and the Holy Land .. Perth heat baseball was cancelled last night because of rain .. the final Roller Derby of the season is next Saturday night.

Bye for now from the Inaugural Supplemental Newsletter ..

Allan & Robyn

The World is 70% water ... how much have you travelled if you haven't cruised ??

